

GAVE THEM SIGHT OF THE BIG STICK

Inaugural Parade Taken as Occasion for Making Display Before Foreigners.

CAPITAL AFTER INAUGURAL

Gradually Resuming Normal Condition After Crush and Bustle of Saturday.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, March 6.—Washington is resuming its normal condition after the crush and bustle of the inauguration, and it is once more possible to reach an objective point in this city of magnificent distances without having to walk and dodge through side streets. The inaugural spectacle is still on every tongue, and the President himself is still thinking, probably, of the great day.

There was no time for deep thinking on the inaugural parade while it was passing, and none while the city was so much stirred up by reason of the crowds scrambling to get away. But it is now possible to sit down in quiet and comment on the scenes of inauguration day, and value at their true worth the features of the great parade.

Impressed Foreigners.
It was not spectacular in the sense that it was little in it which appealed to the unthinking and those in search of the thrilling alone. To these the marching clubs were the most attractive features of the procession, perhaps, and that fact is most significant.

The military feature was far and away the most impressive section of the great column. But it did not appear to appeal to the popular mind as being most attractive. There was not so much show and empty display as are usual on occasions of this character. Every military item of the column appeared to be placed for effect. Even the uniforms appeared in regulation blue or khaki, and the pieces of volunteer artillery dragged by the reviewing stand were not decked out in the manner so often seen in processions. The naval display, that is, the marine and man of war, in line were not in gala dress, but in that they wear when they get down to business for Uncle Sam. Many of the States made a feature of their naval battalions.

NEGRO WILL BE MADE NEW YORK COLLECTOR

Will Take Charge of Internal Revenue Office, Succeeding Treat.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 6.—There is authority for the positive statement that the President has fully decided upon the appointment of Charles W. Anderson, of New York, as internal revenue collector for the district of New York, to succeed Charles H. Treat, who will be appointed to succeed Ellis H. Roberts, treasurer of the United States, at Washington. These changes, however, will not be made until next June, when Mr. Roberts will have completed an eight-year term as collector of the district of New York, and Mr. Anderson is an inspector under the New York State racing law. He studied law at one time, but has not been admitted to the bar. He is a negro.

TUCKER NOT TALKING.

Believes Mr. Ellyson Will be Democratic Nominee.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
WASHINGTON, March 6.—Hon. Harry St. George Tucker, for years member of Congress from the Tenth Virginia District, said to-day that he believed Mr. Ellyson would be the Democratic nominee for the lieutenant-governorship. Mr. Tucker, who is the dean of the law faculty of George Washington University, declines to say what are his intentions regarding his becoming a candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, but said he would make a definite statement on the subject in a short time. He has been urged by many friends to become a candidate, but up to the present has not declared his intentions.

MAGNOLIA.

Thousands of beautiful women owe their youthful complexion, free from wrinkles or blemish, to the merits of MAGNOLIA.

Price, 25c, 50c and 75c by mail.

Prepared only by THE FLORENCE CO., 802 North Carey St., BALTIMORE, MD.

Worn Out? Run Down?

I will gladly give you a full dollar's worth of my remedy to test.

Nothing to deposit. Nothing to promise. The dollar bottle is free. Your Druggist, on my order, will hand you a full dollar's worth and send me the bill.

Why do work and worry and excess and strain and over-indulgence break down constitutions and make men and women worn out and run down and restless and sleepless and discouraged and nervous? Because they weaken the tiny, tender nerves on which life itself depends.

Not the nerves you ordinarily think about—not the nerves that govern your movements and your thoughts.

There are the nerves that, unguided and unknown, night and day, keep your heart in motion—control the digestive apparatus—regulate your blood and regulate your kidneys.

These are the nerves that worry wears out and work breaks down.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it to practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter century of endeavor along this very line. It does not merely create to deaden the pain—but it does go at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it, and makes it well. That is the end of all vital troubles. That is the end of sleepless nights and restless days. That is the end of "nervousness," the end of brain fag, and fatigue.

If you are worn out, run down and have never tried my remedy, write and ask. I will send you an order on your druggist which he will accept as gladly as he would accept a dollar, and you will have your remedy. Those who have once used the Restorative do not need this evidence. There are no cures made only to strings. It is open and frank and fair. It is the supreme test of my limitless belief. All I ask you to do is to write—write today.

For a free order for Book 1 on Dyspepsia, a full dollar bottle of Book 2 on the Heart, must address Dr. Shoop, 200 N. 1st St., Shenandoah, Pa. Book 3 for Women. Book 4 for Men. Book 5 for Rheumatism.

Mild cases are often cured by a single bottle. For sale at forty thousand drug stores.

BELIEVE MR. ELLYSON WILL WIN WITH EASE

Announcement of His Candidacy Received in Washington With Much Pleasure.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Mar. 6.—The announcement of Hon. J. Taylor Ellyson's candidacy for the nomination to the lieutenant-governorship of Virginia was received by Democrats in Washington with pleasure. The opinion is all-ways heard when Virginians discuss the subject of candidates that Mr. Ellyson, by reason of his long years of unrewarded services deserves something at the hands of the party. Several men who will support him in the approaching contest expressed the belief to-day that he would be nominated without any serious contest. It is hinted that one or more of the candidates for the nomination to the lieutenant-governorship will withdraw in favor of Mr. Ellyson.

The Virginia members of the House of Representatives are expected to leave for the district of Mr. Jones and of Mr. Riker will probably remain here until the close of the term of the public schools. Mr. Swanson, the other member of the delegation who keeps house, will stay longer than other members, though he will not be much longer away from the campaign in Virginia.

Senator Daniel and Senator Martin will have to be here a week or two until the adjournment of the extra session, and then the latter will be able to get down home and spend the next few months in making such repairs or additions to his political offices as may be needed.

Mrs. Martin, and her little son, Thomas S. Jr., are expected to be in the city for the night of her mother, Mrs. Fenton Day.

Mrs. Martin's sister, Miss Grace Day, left this afternoon for Richmond to be a week with Mrs. Charles B. Bolling. Miss Day has been a favorite in Washington society in the past two years.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, March 6.—The steamer Arkadia, which conveyed a battalion of the Porto Rico provisional regiment to this city for the inaugural parade to-day, was chartered by Wm. B. HARRIMAN LOSES SECURITIES SUIT

Supreme Court of United States Decides Case Favorably to Company.

WAS NO DISSENTING OPINION

Case Argued Only Week Ago. Prompt Decision Took Everybody by Surprise.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 6.—The Supreme Court of the United States affirmed the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Third Circuit in the case of Harriman vs. the Northern Securities Company, involving the distribution of the shares of the Northern Securities Company. The decision is favorable to the company.

The decision of the court was announced by Chief Justice Fuller. He delivered no written opinion, but said that one would be filed later. There was no dissenting opinion. The Court of Appeals held in effect that the securities company had become the absolute legal and equitable owner of the stock of the railroad company.

The suit was brought by E. H. Harriman, Winthrop S. Pierce and other owners of the Northern Pacific stock held by the securities company to obtain possession of the shares of stock originally deposited by them with the company for the purpose of securing the plan of distribution, which was to give to each stockholder a proportionate amount of the stock of the two railroad companies. The Circuit Court issued a restraining order, which was overruled by the Court of Appeals. The value of the stock involved is $2,400,000. The case was argued only a week ago, and the decision came with a promptness that was quite unexpected.

SENATE SESSION.

Receives Message From President on Postal Matters.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 6.—The special session of the Senate was opened to-day by loud applause for Vice-President Fairbanks, when he appeared in the chamber to preside. He at once rapped the Senate to order. In response to a resolution, Mr. Allison and Mr. Gorman were named as a committee to notify the President that the Senate was in session. A recess was taken at the expiration of which the committee announced that the President would at once send a message. This was received and considered in executive session, after which the Senate adjourned.

Dominican Question.

The Dominican question was raised as soon as the doors of the Senate were closed in legislative session. One of the messages received from the President related to that subject and it was the first matter taken up. It called attention to the protocol of an agreement with the government of Santo Domingo by which the United States will undertake to conduct the republic's custom affairs in an effort to liquidate its debt to the United States government. It is more stable footing with other countries.

The procedure outlined by the protocol, according to the message, is held by the President to be the only means of protecting the interests of Santo Domingo. The United States, who have claims against the Dominican government and the only way by which the creditors of European governments may be given assurance that their claims will be paid.

The President said that instead of stretching the Monroe Doctrine this procedure is the only course which will relieve this country from the necessity of continually invoking the Monroe Doctrine against invasion of European governments. He argues that it is a safeguard against foreign entanglements.

It was pointed out in the message that the United States was not interfering in the internal affairs of Santo Domingo, but that the proceedings of the United States were in response to the earnest request of the Dominican government.

Amend Treaty.

Nearly every member of the Foreign Relations Committee discussed the treaty and the President's message. The need of amending the treaty was urged by a number of senators, and it was not denied by any senator. It practically agreed that the Foreign Relations Committee should be charged with the duty of perfecting the document or at least passing upon it before the details of proposed amendments were talked of in the Senate.

Senator Morgan talked at some length, taking exceptions to some statements in the President's message along the line of the Senate.

of the argument he has made in a protest against the treaty. He said to-day that with some amendments, he might support the treaty; that on matters of this character he believed in being non-partisan. He said that he hoped that the Republicans would take as broad a view as he had in that respect. Senator Bruce declared that he too, considered the treaty from a non-partisan point of view and that there were some questions raised that should be settled by the Senate. In that connection he offered his former resolution of inquiry concerning the protocol of January 31, 1904, for the settlement of the claims of the San Domingo Improvement Company, and it was referred to the Foreign Relations Committee. Senator Morgan offered a resolution and called for the Foreign Relations Committee.

The ordinance, extending water connections to the town of Fairmount, was adopted.

Resolutions upon the death of Hon. Anthony M. Kelley, formerly city attorney and then mayor of Richmond, were reported from a special committee by Mr. Pollock, and unanimously adopted. A high and deserved tribute was paid the deceased jurist for his ability and unfailing patriotism.

The ordinance was twice before vetoed and the last time it was passed by the Board over the veto of the Mayor.

The resolution from the Board appropriating $2,000 to have an expert examine into the causes of poor quality of gas for Richmond was concurred in.

Mr. Curtis offered a resolution, which was adopted, thanking Senators Daniel and Martin and Congressman Lamb for their efforts in securing the $200,000 for the improvement of the harbor, and he and Mr. Pollock warmly commended the gentlemen mentioned for their work.

On motion of Mr. Lynch, Mr. W. T. Atkinson was elected a member of the Committee on Streets, and Mr. Talley from Jefferson Ward.

Mr. Mills offered a resolution, which was adopted, asking the Street Committee to report upon the advisability of the purchase by the city of Magnolia Island, and to ascertain at what price it can be obtained.
